Pending before the Court is the Motion for Summary Judgment, (ECF No. 31), filed by Defendant United States of America (“Defendant”).<sup>1</sup> Pro se Plaintiff William Young (“Plaintiff”)<sup>2</sup> did not file a response, and the time to do so has passed. For the reasons discussed below, the Court GRANTS Defendant’s Motion.

I. BACKGROUND

This case arises out of Plaintiff’s failure to pay his taxes for the years of 2006 to 2012. Specifically, Plaintiff alleges that he received a Notice of Levy on April 20, 2016, for $280,243.46. (Compl. at 2, ECF No. 1). Plaintiff contests this Notice by asserting that it is “legally void” because the Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) “failed to create and mail a statutory notice of deficiency for [the] years [of] 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, and 2012 to Plaintiff by certified or registered mail as required by 26 U.S.C. §§ 6212(a) and 6213(a).”

<sup>1</sup> Also pending before the Court are Plaintiff’s Motion for Summary Judgment, (ECF No. 17), Defendant’s Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, (ECF No. 20), and Plaintiff’s Motion for Leave to File Amended Motion for Summary Judgment, (ECF No. 26). Because the Court lacks jurisdiction over this matter, these Motions are DENIED.

<sup>2</sup> In light of Plaintiff’s status as a pro se litigant, the Court has liberally construed his filings, holding them to standards less stringent than formal pleadings drafted by attorneys. See Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89, 94 (2007).

1 (Id. at 2). Plaintiff therefore asserts that because the IRS allegedly did not mail him the
2 statutory notices of deficiency, he is not required to pay the money owed for those years. (See
3 id. at 4).

4 Plaintiff filed his Complaint on October 21, 2016, asking the Court to “find that the tax
5 assessments against Plaintiff for tax years 2006 – 2012 as enumerated in the ‘Notice of Levy’
6 are invalid because the IRS failed to create and mail the [statutory notices of deficiency] to 7 Plaintiff.” (Id. at 4). On September 19, 2017, Defendant filed the instant Motion for Summary
8 Judgment, (ECF No. 31), alleging that the Court does not have jurisdiction over this case due to 9 sovereign immunity. (See Mot. for Summ. J. (“MSJ”) 12:22–23).

10 II. LEGAL STANDARD

11 The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provide for summary adjudication when the 12 pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the 13 affidavits, if any, show that “there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and the movant
14 is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(a). Material facts are those that 15 may affect the outcome of the case. See Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248
16 (1986). A dispute as to a material fact is genuine if there is sufficient evidence for a reasonable
17 jury to return a verdict for the nonmoving party. See id. “Summary judgment is inappropriate if 18 reasonable jurors, drawing all inferences in favor of the nonmoving party, could return a verdict
19 in the nonmoving party’s favor.” Diaz v. Eagle Produce Ltd. P’ship, 521 F.3d 1201, 1207 (9th
20 Cir. 2008) (citing United States v. Shumway, 199 F.3d 1093, 1103–04 (9th Cir. 1999)). A 21 principal purpose of summary judgment is “to isolate and dispose of factually unsupported
22 claims.” Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323–24 (1986).

23 In determining summary judgment, a court applies a burden-shifting analysis. “When 24 the party moving for summary judgment would bear the burden of proof at trial, it must come
25 forward with evidence which would entitle it to a directed verdict if the evidence went

1 uncontroverted at trial. In such a case, the moving party has the initial burden of establishing
2 the absence of a genuine issue of fact on each issue material to its case.” C.A.R. Transp.
3 Brokerage Co. v. Darden Rests., Inc., 213 F.3d 474, 480 (9th Cir. 2000) (citations omitted). In 4 contrast, when the nonmoving party bears the burden of proving the claim or defense, the 5 moving party can meet its burden in two ways: (1) by presenting evidence to negate an
6 essential element of the nonmoving party’s case; or (2) by demonstrating that the nonmoving
7 party failed to make a showing sufficient to establish an element essential to that party’s case
8 on which that party will bear the burden of proof at trial. See Celotex Corp., 477 U.S. at 323–
9 24. If the moving party fails to meet its initial burden, summary judgment must be denied and 10 the court need not consider the nonmoving party’s evidence. See Adickes v. S.H. Kress & Co.,
11 398 U.S. 144, 159–60 (1970).

12 If the moving party satisfies its initial burden, the burden then shifts to the opposing 13 party to establish that a genuine issue of material fact exists. See Matsushita Elec. Indus. Co. v.
14 Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 586 (1986). To establish the existence of a factual dispute,
15 the opposing party need not establish a material issue of fact conclusively in its favor. It is 16 sufficient that “the claimed factual dispute be shown to require a jury or judge to resolve the 17 parties’ differing versions of the truth at trial.” T.W. Elec. Serv., Inc. v. Pac. Elec. Contractors
18 Ass’n, 809 F.2d 626, 631 (9th Cir. 1987). In other words, the nonmoving party cannot avoid
19 summary judgment by relying solely on conclusory allegations that are unsupported by factual
20 data. See Taylor v. List, 880 F.2d 1040, 1045 (9th Cir. 1989). Instead, the opposition must go
21 beyond the assertions and allegations of the pleadings and set forth specific facts by producing 22 competent evidence that shows a genuine issue for trial. See Celotex Corp., 477 U.S. at 324.

23 At summary judgment, a court’s function is not to weigh the evidence and determine the 24 truth but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial. See Anderson, 477 U.S. at 249.
25 The evidence of the nonmovant is “to be believed, and all justifiable inferences are to be drawn

1 in his favor.” Id. at 255. But if the evidence of the nonmoving party is merely colorable or is
2 not significantly probative, summary judgment may be granted. See id. at 249–50.

3 III. DISCUSSION

4 Defendant states that “the Court need not resolve any factual disputes[ ] because the
5 doctrine of sovereign immunity bars Plaintiff’s suit in its entirety.” (MSJ 12:22–23). “It is well
6 settled that the United States is a sovereign, and, as such, is immune from suit unless it has
7 expressly waived such immunity and consented to be sued.” Gilbert v. DaGrossa, 756 F.2d
8 1455, 1458 (9th Cir. 1985); United States v. Shaw, 309 U.S. 495, 500–01 (1940); Hutchinson v.
9 United States, 677 F.2d 1322, 1327 (9th Cir. 1982); Beller v. Middendorf, 632 F.2d 788, 796
10 (9th Cir. 1980), cert. denied, 452 U.S. 905 (1981). Such waiver cannot be implied, but must be 11 unequivocally expressed. United States v. King, 395 U.S. 1, 4 (1969). Where a suit has not
12 been consented to by the United States, dismissal of the action is required. Hutchison, 677 F.2d
13 at 1327. “It is axiomatic that the United States may not be sued without its consent and that the 14 existence of such consent is a prerequisite for jurisdiction.” United States v. Mitchell, 463 U.S.
15 206 (1983). The party who sues the United States bears the burden of pointing to such an 16 unequivocal waiver of immunity. Holloman v. Watt, 708 F.2d 1399, 1401 (9th Cir. 1983).

17 Plaintiff fails to point to any statutory waiver of sovereign immunity in this case.
18 Plaintiff asserts in his Complaint that the Court has jurisdiction pursuant to 26 U.S.C.
19 §§ 6212(a) and 6213(a). (Compl. at 2). These statutes, however, do not waive sovereign
20 immunity for the United States.

21 Moreover, the relief Plaintiff seeks is to have the Court “declare that the Internal 22 Revenue Services’ . . . tax assessments for the tax years 2006 – 2012 inclusive[ ] are invalid.”
23 (Id. at 1). The Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201, provides courts the ability to 24 declare the rights and “other legal relations of any interested party seeking such declaration”
25 except with respect to federal taxes. 28 U.S.C. § 2201(a); see Handeland v. C. I. R., 519 F.2d

1 327, 329 (9th Cir. 1975) (“Congress has barred federal courts from giving declaratory
2 judgments in tax matters.”). Although Plaintiff seeks declaratory relief, his cause of action
3 centers solely around federal taxes, therefore precluding him from using the Declaratory
4 Judgment Act. Because Plaintiff has failed to prove that Defendant waived its sovereign
5 immunity, the Court cannot exercise jurisdiction over this case. Accordingly, Plaintiff’s case is 6 dismissed.

7 IV. CONCLUSION

8 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Defendant’s Motion for Summary Judgment, (ECF
9 No. 31), is GRANTED. The Court does not have jurisdiction over this case and therefore all 10 claims against Defendant are DISMISSED.

11 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Plaintiff’s Motion for Summary Judgment, (ECF
12 No. 17), Defendant’s Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, (ECF No. 20), and Plaintiff’s
13 Motion for Leave to File Amended Motion for Summary Judgment, (ECF No. 26), are 14 DENIED.

15 The Clerk of the Court shall enter judgment accordingly and close the case.

16 DATED this 28 day of November, 2017.
